

Mumbai Diary: Thursday Dossier

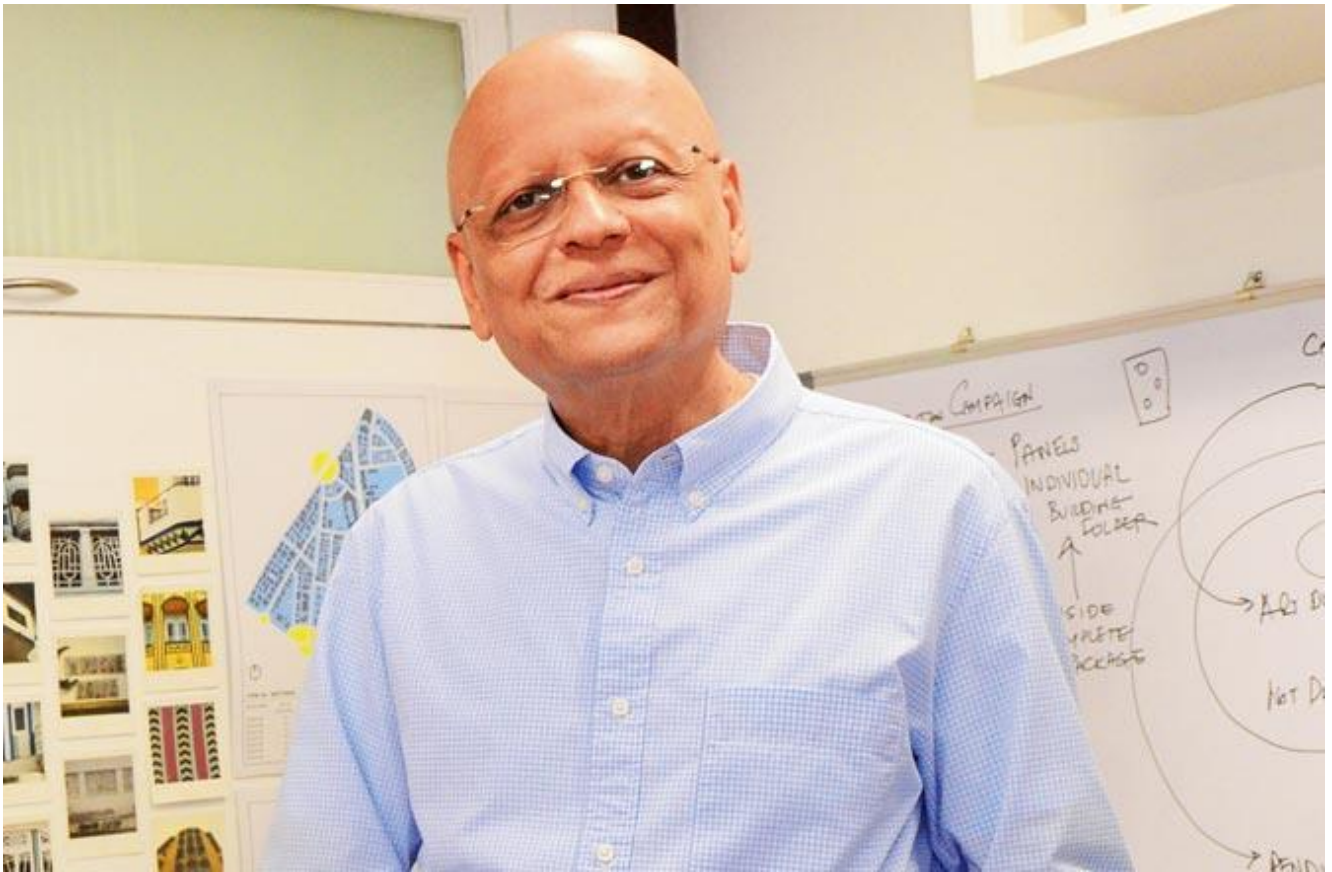

May 14, 2020 | Team mid-day

Four For Deco

Pic courtesy/Art Deco Mumbai

Public charitable trust Art Deco Mumbai that has been chronicling the city's art deco structures, has turned four. So far, they have surveyed 1,769 buildings and documented 661. Last month, they partnered with Google to put up a virtual exhibition on Google Arts & Culture.

Speaking about the milestone, founder-trustee Atul Kumar said, "It's been an exciting year of collaborations, taking the outreach for Bombay's Deco across the city, the country and to the rest of the world. Our city's Deco is firmly on the world map. It's a proud moment for Mumbai."

<https://www.mid-day.com/articles/mumbai-diary-thursday-dossier/22782234>